

Life in the Rainforest

Fact Sheet

Cockroaches & Millipedes

Cockroaches have an incomplete lifecycle; they do not have a pupae stage.

Millipedes are arachnids not insects.

Millipedes & cockroaches live under the soil in the rain forest, they eat fallen fruit dead leaves and rotten wood, and they are the cleaners helping to keep the cycle of the rain forest moving.

Hissing Cockroach.

Headlight Cockroach.

Chocolate Millipede

